Overall you have a great layout. It's all very professional and shows your passion for teaching, student engagement and technology. Everything seems cited appropriately and well written. Your site is easy to navigate with the bar across the top.

At this time I did not notice a 3rd piece of flair on your site. If I missed it please point it out and I will gladly give you feedback. If it has not been completed (as it's not due quite yet) feel free to let me know and I will give feedback at that time.

As a side note: I see a lot of you professionally, your voice and your vision. It does achieve the requirements (with the exception of the missing piece of flair discussed above), but, personally, I would like to see some more of your personality and individuality come through. Show your voice. Your layouts and designs are neat and crisp but almost too much so to the point of being sterile or just following a template. Don't be afraid to let your voice and creativity shine!
